- Refer students to the Learning Center for help with time and stress management, and more in-depth help with note-taking and other “soft learning” skills.

What do tutors earn?

How much will I work? What would my hours be?

The amount of hours varies widely, from 0 to 10 hours per week, occasionally more. Our services are on request, so it's difficult to predict. Once they are assigned, student-tutor matches are usually established for the remainder of the semester. You determine your availability and schedule students during those times. You can choose certain hours, days, evenings, or weekends. Of course, the more flexibility you have, the more you are likely to work. You can meet with students any time the Larimer Campus (including the Harmony Library) is open.

How do I apply?

If you can tutor in one of the areas currently needed, go to the bottom of the job description at: https://frontrange-openhire.silkroad.com/e postings/index.cfm?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&id=23&jobid=156&company_id=16694&version=1&source=ONLINE&JobOwner=992508&level=levelid1&levelid1=36336&parent=Non%2DStudent%20Hourly&startflag=2. Complete the application and we'll be in touch with you!

Since the sign-up process is lengthy, we strongly prefer that you be willing to tutor at least three students in a semester and that you plan to stay with us more than one semester. You may choose not to be available during the summer, which is not as busy. We understand that you may need to be away for a week or two during a semester; you can usually arrange that directly with your students.
