Abstract

Most student level papers will not require an abstract. You start typing your abstract here. No indentation is required for your paragraph. Don't make your abstract any longer than one paragraph. An abstract is generally about four sentences long. You might have an instructor who asks for a longer abstract, but four sentences is usually what's used. Ultimately, go with whatever your instructor asks for.

And you start typing the body of your paper here. Do indent all of your paragraphs in the body of your paper.
