6. FRCC uses a web based application for students to be considered for a HEERF grant. FRCC HEERF grant award determinations are based on students' demonstrable need as described in their application and verified by the financial aid office. Additionally, the amount of the award is based on the tuition cost differential of online enrollment vs regular enrollment that added an additional financial burden to the student as a result of FRCC limiting enrollment to online instruction only. Thus based on students' credit load:
 - Students registered for 1-4 credit hours are eligible for $500
 - Students registered for 5-7 credit hours are eligible for $750
 - Students registered for 8+ credit hours are eligible for $1000
 Funds are issued as a Bank Mobile refund unless the student voluntarily chooses to apply the funds to the balance of their account.
7. Students are notified via an email to their frontrange.edu account of their application status and award. Information on availability, eligibility and the application process is provided to students through the Office of Financial Aid website, by financial aid and academic advisors, and via direct email to students. The following information is shared:
